

ABRA Update #176 – April 13, 2018

Virginia Agrees to Comment Period on ACP Stream Crossings

The adequacy of stream crossing plans in Virginia for the Atlantic Coast Pipeline will be the subject of a new 30-day public comment period, in accordance with a vote on April 12 by the State Water Control Board. Official language on the Board's action is not yet available, but the Department of Environmental Quality provided ABRA with the following statement:

Additional information on the public comment period and the SWCB's meeting will be available in the near future. The State Water Control Board authorized receiving written, public comments on water crossings and wetlands that are covered under the Army Corps of Engineers Nationwide 12 Permit. We are gathering the details to let people know when the comment period will be, how to access the NW 12 plans, what types of technical information will be beneficial, and how to submit comments to the Board.

For more information on this development, see the Richmond Times-Dispatch article below in In the News ("Regulatory board cracks open door").

West Virginia DEP Launches Special Pipeline Website

The West Virginia Department of Environmental Protection (WVDEP) has launched an easy to use website designed to help citizens learn more about five major proposed or under construction natural gas pipelines. The five pipelines that are the focus of the webpage are the Atlantic Coast Pipeline, Mountain Valley Pipeline, the Mountaineer Gas Company Eastern Panhandle Expansion Project, Mountaineer Xpress Pipeline, and the Rover Pipeline.

Available on the site is information such as detailed maps of the proposed route of pipeline routes and a link to WVDEP's searchable online database where additional information such as any inspection and enforcement action and any permit modifications can be found. Also available are public hearing transcripts, responses to comments received at public hearings, and press releases about the pipelines. The page will be updated as more information on each pipeline becomes available. Citizens will also be able to submit reports of possible permit violations via this webpage. The new site is available at <https://dep.wv.gov/pio/Pages/Major-Pipelines-In-West-Virginia.aspx>.

FERC O.K.'s ACP to Construct Contractor Storage Yards in WV and NC

Authority to commence construction of contractor storage yards in Upshur County, WV and Halifax County, NC for the Atlantic Coast Pipeline (ACP) was granted April 12 by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC). The request to proceed with the storage yard construction, which had been filed by Dominion Energy Transmission, Inc. on March 27, also included a request to begin construction on a storage yard in Cumberland County, NC. FERC declined at this time to authorize construction of the Cumberland facility until the company “resolves discrepancies related to the crossing method” for a waterbody at the entrance of the proposed yard.

CSI Pipeline Monitors Needed, Sign Up Now!

ABRA’s Pipeline Compliance Surveillance Initiative (CSI) is well underway, with volunteers signing up to participate in the massive citizen monitoring effort that will be necessary to assure that construction activity associated with the Atlantic Coast Pipeline is fully in compliance with conditions of the authorizing permits and in not in violation of state or federal environmental laws and regulations. There are many ways that volunteers can participate in this important work, as detailed on the CSI website. You can sign-up here.

One category of CSI volunteering – stream monitoring – is demonstrated in the photos below of Reese Bull, a participant in the Trout Unlimited stream monitoring program, measuring stream quality in White Oak Draft in western Augusta County, VA. The instrument he is using is a Traceer Pocketester that measures temperature and electrical conductivity. Trout Unlimited is a cooperating partner with ABRA’s CSI program.

ACP Announces Construction Open Houses in Virginia

The Atlantic Coast Pipeline has advertised this week in local papers (see below) along the route of the pipeline a series open houses and job fairs. A similar open house was held on Wednesday, April 11, in Buckhannon, WV.
